Texas was added to the original four ships of the division in order that there might be four ships continuously in the battle line at the same time allow for necessary repairs. Encounters With Enemy Submarines by Battleships. Between the dates of their arrival in European waters and signing of the armistice, United States battleships were attacked six times by enemy submarines, and on one occasion the New York collided with a submarine. The following is a brief summary of the reports of these encounters: Florida, Delairare, February 8, 1918. --While maneuvering off the Norwegian coast (exact position not stated) awaiting a return convoy, a submarine was sighted; 4 torpedoes were fired at the Florida and 2 at the Delaware. Both ships successfully maneuvered to avoid being hit. Two depth charges were dropped by destroyers. Texas, April 27, 1918. --At 12. 47 p. m. in 56...
