Critical Infrastructure for Ocean Research and Societal Needs in 2030

By Committee on an Ocean Infrastructure Strategy for U.S. Ocean Research in 2030, Ocean Studies Board, Division on Earth and Life Studies, National Research Council

National Academies Press. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Critical Infrastructure for Ocean Research and Societal Needs in 2030, Committee on an Ocean Infrastructure Strategy for U.S. Ocean Research in 2030, Ocean Studies Board, Division on Earth and Life Studies, National Research Council, The United States has jurisdiction over 3.4 million square miles of ocean in its exclusive economic zone, a size exceeding the combined land area of the 50 states. This expansive marine area represents a prime national domain for activities such as maritime transportation, national security, energy and mineral extraction, fisheries and aquaculture, and tourism and recreation. However, it also carries with it the threat of damaging and outbreaks of waterborne pathogens. The 2010 Gulf of Mexico Deepwater Horizon oil spill and the 2011 Japanese earthquake and tsunami are vivid reminders that ocean activities and processes have direct human implications both nationally and worldwide, understanding of the ocean system is still incomplete, and ocean research infrastructure is needed to support both fundamental research and societal priorities. Given current struggles to maintain, operate, and upgrade major infrastructure elements while maintaining a robust research portfolio, a strategic plan is needed for future investments to ensure that new facilities provide the...

Reviews

Complete guideline! Its this type of great read through. it absolutely was writtern quite perfectly and helpful. I am very happy to explain how this is basically the best book i actually have read through during my personal life and can be he very best book for at any time.
